That this House declines to give a Second Reading to the Nationality and Borders Bill because it fails to meet the UK's commitment to the Refugee Convention, would create a discriminatory two-tier system of refugee rights, would criminalise asylum seekers for exercising their legal right to seek asylum, makes provision for offshore processing of asylum-seekers, fails to outline the UK government's statutory obligations on resettlement, would increase pressure on the judicial system through an accelerated appeals process that represents a deliberate attempt to reduce access to justice, imposes medically unsound evidence requirements that would retraumatise victims, would increase delays within the Home Office and would leave many people in limbo as the backlog of asylum claims increases, does not include provision for a comprehensive data-sharing firewall between public services, labour inspectorates and immigration enforcement which is necessary to protect victims of trafficking, would leave people seeking protection at greater risk of exploitation and fails to address the need for faster, more efficient and humane decision-making within the Home Office.

That this House declines to give a Second Reading to the Nationality and Borders Bill as it would place the United Kingdom in breach of the 1951 Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees, to which the United Kingdom is a party, and would diminish the rights of many people seeking refuge in the UK, including Uighurs fleeing persecution, Syrians fleeing war crimes, converted Christians in fear of their life, even to the extent of criminalising them in certain circumstances with an offence punishable by up to four years in prison.

That this House declines to give a Second Reading to the Nationality and Borders Bill, notwithstanding the need to address the increasing number of dangerous boat crossings in the English Channel, because the Bill breaches the 1951 Refugee Convention, does not address the Government's failure since 2010 to competently process asylum applications which has resulted in a backlog of cases and increased costs to the taxpayer, fails to deal with the serious and organised crime groups who are profiteering from human trafficking and modern slavery, does not address the failure to replace the Dublin III regulations to return refugees to safe countries, fails to re-establish safe routes and help unaccompanied child refugees, and fails to deliver a workable agreement with France to address the issue of boat crossings.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

VIRTUAL PARTICIPATION IN PROCEEDINGS

On 30 December 2020 the House agreed an order extending virtual participation to debate and certain other proceedings in accordance with a scheme prepared by the Speaker. On 16 June the House extended these provisions until 22 July.

The scheme for virtual participation in proceedings and the revised Members' Guide to Chamber proceedings are available on the intranet. The Members' Guide to Westminster Hall proceedings is available on the intranet.

PARTICIPATION IN WESTMINSTER HALL

On 25 February, the House agreed a motion to resume sittings in Westminster Hall on Monday 8 March. The Order, agreed on 16 June extends provision for Members to participate virtually until the House rises for summer recess. These sittings continue to take place in the Boothroyd Room in Portcullis House.

Applying to speak

Applications to speak should be made via email to the Speaker's Office (speakersoffice@parliament.uk). The deadlines are as follows: 1.00pm on the previous Friday for debates on a Monday; and 1.00pm on the previous day for debates on a Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Call lists will be published at around 12.30pm on a Monday for debates that day and 6.30pm the previous day for debates on a Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Participation

Members are able to participate physically or virtually. Members who wish to participate physically should note this when they contact the Speaker's Office. For 60-minute and 90-minute debates, and debates scheduled by the Petitions Committee, only Members who are on the call list are permitted to attend. Members will be called in the order they appear on the call list, unless there are technical problems which prevent this. For 30-minute debates, there will not be a call list. Members wishing to contribute should follow existing conventions about contacting the Member in charge of the debate, the Speaker's Office and the Minister.

End to arrangements for social distancing

As announced by the Commission on 12 July, there is no longer the requirement to social distance in the Chamber and for other proceedings in the House. Westminster Hall sittings continue to take place in the Boothroyd Room to allow virtual participation. Specific seats at the horseshoe are reserved for frontbenchers, the PPS or Whip, the Member in charge, the Chair and the Clerk and the other seats are available for Members on the call lists or those who wish to listen or intervene. Members can only speak from the horseshoe (not the public gallery or the seats at the side of the room) and should move to the horseshoe if they wish to make a contribution. Guidance for Members on hybrid arrangements in Westminster Hall can be found on the intranet.
