BUSINESS OF THE DAY

1. QUEEN'S SPEECH (MOTION FOR AN ADDRESS): ADJOURNED DEBATE [10 MAY]

Until 7.00pm (Standing Order No. 9\(3\))

Proposed subject for debate: Preventing crime and delivering justice

That an Humble Address be presented to Her Majesty, as follows:

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland in Parliament assembled, beg leave to offer our humble thanks to Your Majesty for the Gracious Speech which was addressed to both Houses of Parliament.

Amendment (a)

Caroline Lucas

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech did not deliver the urgent transformative action required in response to the climate and nature emergencies, and if the UK is to do its fair share to limit global temperature rise to 1.5°C; note with alarm the UN warning that Government's plan to produce over twice the amount of fossil fuels in 2030 than is consistent with the 1.5°C target; further note that one million plant and animal species face extinction and that access to nature is profoundly unequal and that only 8 per cent of land in England is open access; and therefore call on the Government to bring forward a Climate and Ecology Bill to provide an evidence-based statutory framework to meet international climate and nature responsibilities, to enact a Green New Deal to restructure and decarbonise the economy, restore nature and launch a building retrofit revolution, to end any new coal, oil, or gas licences and abolish the duty to Maximise Economic Recovery, to support the international Fossil Fuel Non-Proliferation Treaty and the principle of a just transition, and extend the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 to include rivers, woods, more grassland and Green Belt.'

Amendment (b)

Mary Kelly Foy
Ian Lavery
Zarah Sultana
Bell Ribeiro-Addy
John McDonnell

Barry Gardiner
Ian Byrne
Richard Burgon

Ian Mearns
Claudia Webbe
Mick Whitley

Andy McDonald
Grahame Morris

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech does not contain measures to deal with the housing crisis; note record high numbers of families on local authority housing waiting lists, an increase in no-fault evictions, an increase in street homelessness of 38 per cent since 2010 and a net loss of over 22,000 social homes across England; and call on the Government to come forward with plans to tackle the housing crisis, including by bringing forward a bill that will ensure a new generation of good quality social homes, improve private renting conditions and bolster regulation in the social rented sector.'

Ian Lavery
Zarah Sultana
Bell Ribeiro-Addy
John McDonnell

Barry Gardiner
Ian Byrne
Richard Burgon

Ian Mearns
Claudia Webbe
Mick Whitley

Andy McDonald
Grahame Morris

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech does not contain measures to deal with the crisis in foster care; note the crisis in recruitment and retention of foster carers; further note that the number of children in foster care has increased by 11 per cent yet the number of foster carers in England has increased by only 4 per cent; and call on the Government to bring forward legislative proposals for a national fostering strategy that will provide funding, recognition and wraparound support for local authorities and independent fostering agencies, increase accountability in the foster care system, address the need for a national foster care leadership board and provide foster carers with the workers' rights and recognition they deserve.'

Amendment (d)

Kate Hollern	Sir George Howarth	Yvonne Fovargue
Yasmin Qureshi	Peter Dowd	Sir Mark Hendrick
Rosie Duffield	Jeremy Corbyn

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech does not contain measures to properly address the crisis of food poverty and the rising cost of living; acknowledge the profound and devastating consequences of food poverty on the health, wellbeing and livelihoods of people in our communities; assert that the Government's duty to ensure nobody in our communities goes hungry should be reflected in legislation; and call on the Government to bring forward legislative proposals to enshrine the right to food in UK law.'

Neale Hanvey	Bell Ribeiro-Addy	Jeremy Corbyn
Claudia Webbe	Kenny MacAskill	Grahame Morris
Mick Whitley

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech does not contain measures to properly tax the wealth of the very richest in this country and, noting that there are high levels of public support for a wealth tax, call on the Government to establish a wealth tax commission to examine the best ways of raising taxes from the very wealthiest and to bring forward a bill that fulfils this aim.'

Amendment (f)Zarah Sultana*Ian Byrne*Andy McDonald*John McDonnell*Bell Ribeiro-Addy*Ian Lavery

Richard Burgon

Mick Whitley

Apsana Begum

Kate Osborne

Rebecca Long Bailey

Grahame Morris

Claudia Webbe

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech fails to include measures to address the cost-of-living crisis; note that energy bills rose by almost £700 in April and are projected to rise by £830 in October; note that inflation is running at 7 per cent and is expected to exceed 10 per cent in the autumn; and therefore call on the Government to revert to the lower pre-April energy price cap and promise no new energy price hike in October, raise the minimum wage to a real living wage, with a path to £15-an-hour, introduce a real-terms public sector pay increase, real-terms rise in pensions and social security payments, restore and extend the £20-a-week Universal Credit uplift to all benefits, enshrine the right to food in law to end food poverty, introduce rent controls and a plan to build at least 100,000 council homes a year, strengthen workers' rights with a ban on fire-and-rehire and repeal all anti-union laws, bring rail, mail, energy and water into public ownership, raise taxes on the richest 5 per cent of earners and large corporations, introduce a windfall tax on oil and gas companies and end the non-domiciled residents tax status.'

Amendment (g)Barry Gardiner*Ian Byrne*Kate Osborne*Dawn Butler*Richard Burgon*Ian Lavery

Mary Kelly Foy

Jon Trickett

Margaret Greenwood

Mick Whitley

Grahame Morris

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech fails to provide any legislative solutions to the cost of living crisis and the fact that 7.3 million people are in food insecurity; note that the Bank of England projects inflation of 10 per cent by the end of 2022 at a time when real wages have been falling and energy bills have already risen by £700 with utility companies predicting further rises of £1,000 this autumn; call on the Government to legislate for a right to food in order to address the devastating consequences of food poverty on the nation's health and well-being; recognise the Government's own figures estimate that 900,000 individuals, many of whom have disabilities, will become worse off as the result of the transition from legacy benefits to Universal Credit; and call on the Government to restore the £20

uplift to Universal Credit that it decided not to continue and protect the income of those adversely affected.'

Amendment (h)

Barry Gardiner

Ian Byrne

Kate Osborne

Dawn Butler

Richard Burgon

Ian Lavery

Mary Kelly Foy

Jon Trickett

Margaret Greenwood

Mick Whitley

Grahame Morris

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech fails to provide any legislative solutions to the energy crisis, the climate crisis, or the housing crisis and the plight of residents trapped in accommodation with fire safety defects; urge the Government to step in to ensure urgent remediation at no cost to the residents who have been the victims of negligence by developers and construction companies; note the spiralling cost of home heating and the risk that energy inefficient homes continue to pose to the UK's ability to meet its contribution to the 1.5°C Paris target; call for a windfall tax on oil and gas companies' excess profits to pay for an immediate rollout of retrofitting energy efficiency measures to all homes in the UK and a reduction in the cost of utility bills; further note the high numbers of families on local authority housing waiting lists, the high level of no-fault evictions and a rise in street homelessness of 38 per cent since 2010 with a net loss of over 22,000 social homes across England; and urge the Government to build 100,000 new genuinely affordable homes a year to net zero standards on brownfield sites.'

Amendment (i)

Barry Gardiner

Ian Byrne

Kate Osborne

Dawn Butler

Richard Burgon

Ian Lavery

Mary Kelly Foy

Jon Trickett

Margaret Greenwood

Mick Whitley

Grahame Morris

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech fails to introduce the employment bill as had been promised or to provide any legislative solutions to the lack of security in employment; recall the disgraceful treatment of workers by P&O Ferries and the failure of Government to protect workers in many large companies from unfair treatment; and therefore call on the Government to legislate to end the use of fire and rehire as a tactic to reduce workers' wages and terms and conditions, to strengthen employment rights and to introduce sectoral collective bargaining and a minimum wage of £15 an hour.'

Amendment (j)Barry Gardiner*Ian Byrne*Kate Osborne*Dawn Butler*Richard Burgon*Ian Lavery

Mary Kelly Foy

Jon Trickett

Margaret Greenwood

Mick Whitley

Grahame Morris

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech fails to provide any legislative solutions to the backlog in the NHS; recall that the British Medical Association states that a record 6.1 million people who have been referred to a consultant are still awaiting treatment, two million of them over the 18 week maximum waiting time for non-urgent referrals and 300,000 already waiting over a year; and therefore call on the Government to expand the places available to train secondary care staff and to remedy the underfunding that had led to the waiting lists burgeoning to 4.43 million even before the covid-19 outbreak began.'

Amendment (k)Barry Gardiner*Ian Byrne*Kate Osborne*Dawn Butler*Richard Burgon*Ian Lavery

Mary Kelly Foy

Jon Trickett

Margaret Greenwood

Mick Whitley

Grahame Morris

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech fails to provide any legislative solutions to the serious imbalance in wealth and power entrenched in our society which stems from the appreciation in the value of land and which allows fewer than 6,000 people to own 60 per cent of all the land in the UK; urge the Government to commit to an open and transparent Land Registry without search fees, to reform of the Land Compensation Act 1961, so that councils are able to buy land at closer to existing use value thereby making the building of social housing much more affordable, and to improving regulation in the social and private rental sectors; recognise that it is by taxing labour rather than wealth that Government currently raises the largest part, 60 per cent, of its revenue; and therefore call on the Government to legislate for what Milton Friedman described as the least bad tax and begin to impose a land value tax on landholdings above 1,000 acres, initially to replace business rates and ultimately in order to tax wealth and unearned income so as to reduce the taxation of productive work through income tax and VAT.'

Amendment (l)Ed Davey*Daisy Cooper*Wendy Chamberlain*Mr Alistair Carmichael*Tim Farron*Layla Moran

Christine Jardine

Sarah Olney

Helen Morgan

Wera Hobhouse

Munira Wilson

Jamie Stone

Sarah Green

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech does not tackle the pressing issues facing communities up and down the country, fails to implement a windfall tax on oil and gas super profits and to introduce measures that would protect rural areas, such as preventing water companies from pumping sewage into rivers, waterways, and oceans; and further regret that the provisions of the Gracious Speech fail to protect households from the rising cost of heating oil, which is not capped, and to protect farmers who are being undercut by new trade deals, neglect to tackle recruitment in agriculture and fail to uphold animal welfare and environmental standards, do nothing to stop the proliferation of second homes and holiday cottages in rural communities, which results in a shortage of affordable homes, or to tackle the chronic shortage of dentists and GPs which results in patients facing long waits for essential treatment, and fail to address the growing waiting times for ambulances in rural areas and do nothing to reverse the closures of critical ambulance stations where these closures worsen ambulance waiting times.'

Amendment (m)Ed Davey*Daisy Cooper*Wendy Chamberlain*Mr Alistair Carmichael*Tim Farron*Layla Moran

Christine Jardine

Sarah Olney

Helen Morgan

Wera Hobhouse

Munira Wilson

Jamie Stone

Sarah Green

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech fails to support unpaid carers despite a Bill having been prepared, fails to tackle issues in SEND education provision and does nothing to ensure pupils affected by the pandemic get extra support to catch up missed education, is not sufficiently ambitious in tackling the cost of living crisis and should include provision for an emergency tax cut cutting the top rate of VAT from 20 per cent to 17.5 per cent; further regret that the Gracious Speech fails to tackle violence against women and girls, nor does it tackle fraud and scams, does nothing to provide safe and legal routes to sanctuary for refugees fleeing war and persecution, does nothing to tackle the chronic shortage of dentists and GPs which results in long waiting times for patients requiring essential treatment, ignores the growing waiting times for ambulances, does not reverse the misguided cut to the armed forces of up to 10,000 troops, and fails to restore with immediate effect the 0.7 per cent target of GNI for international development spending.'

Amendment (n)

Tim Farron

At end add 'but, while welcoming the mental health bill brought forward in the Gracious Speech and the forthcoming scrutiny of its contents, respectfully regret that it did not include a strategy for reducing cancer waiting times as committed by the Government; are concerned by the continued downward trajectory of cancer waiting times since 2017; note that NHS operational standards requiring at least 85 per cent of cancer patients to be seen within 62 days have not been met for over five years; note the commitment to reach an average figure of 80 per cent of patients seen within 62 days by March 2023; and respectfully ask the Government to publish a strategy for how that target will be met.'

2. INDEPENDENT EXPERT PANEL
